The Court Speaks.

MORGANFIELD, KY., March 12. ED. PRESS: My attention has been called to certain paragraphs, going the rounds of the papers, which would imply that the court had ordered jurors from Henderson county to try the Delaney coses because of some suspicion of impropriety on the part of some jurors heretofore brought from Crittenden county.

For this implication there is not a shadow of excuse. At the last November term, when the order was made for the last 200 jurors from Crittenden, the court announced publicly that at the present March term the jurors would be ordered from Henderson county. The reason as signed by the court at the time was because so many had been drawn from Crittenden that it would be due to all concerned to try some other county at this term.

All I have ever heard of the im propriety on the part of the Crittendeu county jurors is what I have recently seen in the paragraphs referred to. I very much regret that such an unfounded implication has found circulation anywhere.

Quarterly Conference.

The Methodists of the Marion Circuit held their sepond quarterly conference at Siloam Saturday. The churches were all represented but Hebron; the conference was presided over by Rev. B. F. Orr, P. E.

The pastor reported the "general state of the church on the circuit' as in a moderately good condition; "the attendance upon the ministry of the Word good." He reported one Epworth League, with 22 members, and one Sunday school with 18 officers and teachers, and 175 puplls. Special services were held in the interest of missions during "Do Without Week," February 4-10 at six places in the circuit. The voluntary gifts during the week amounted to $21.78. Under the tople of edueation Rev. Fraser submit! d the following report:

"The people of Marion and vielnty have recently completed a beautiful and substantial public school building at Marion, ln which is now being taught a splendid graded school; and I am glad to know that the religious influence of the school is decided, for I learn that the Bible s read and prayer offered in the school every day. So long as this is kept up it will be a free school in ideed. To our minds the Bible lu the school becomes the charter of our free school system. Quite a number of young men and women of Methodist families are attending this school to prepare themselves for hetter work. We also recommend to those of our people who have children ready for high school and colleges that they patronise those institutions under the care of our church.

J. D. Fraser, P. C. Siloam, March 9, 1895.

Upon motion the annual salary of the pastor was fixed at the same amount as that paid the late Rev. Guthrie, $720, proportioned among the churches as follows: Marion, $325; Hurricane $235; Siloam $110; Hillsdale $50. For the present quarter the churches reported the following amounts collected for support of the ministry: Marion $81.25; Hurrieane $40; Siloam 21.25; Hillsdale

Manuscripts of the New and the old Tes taments Often Rewritten. The New Testament, us we know it comes down to as atter having been kept for hundreds of years in manuscript form by the priests, "Tathers of the church," and others. The writings have been copied and recopied probably scores of times, at least as often as occasion required, being always renewed before becoming unintelligible by use and wear. The two eldest of these manuscripts now known are the Codex Seniaticus and the Codex Vaticanus, each of which dates from the fourth century, A. D. The languages originally used in this work were Hebrew and Greek, but nfter the your 300 A. i). the maunscripts were ail, or nearly ull, written in Latin. The last mentioned language was that adopted by the Roman church in their translations and was known as the "Vnlgate," because commonly used in the churches. As far back as the seventh century portions of the Vulgato were translated into old English, and it was also the version need by Wickliffe (Wyclif), Purvey and their predecessors and was the first book printed from movable type, 1450-5. Tyndale's version was from a German translation of the original Greek, made by Martin Luther.

The "anthorized version," or King James' translation, was made by 47 of the most eminent British scholars and was finished in the year 1611. The Latin Vulgate was the main version used by them; but, so tar us they were accessible, other manuscripts, both in the Greek and Hebrew, were consuited and compared.

The manuscripts of the Old Testament have had similar experiences, hav-Ing been written and rewritten thonsands of times since the first collection | keep the pen point clear and bright, was put in writing by the priests and leaders of the Israelites, about the year 1500 B. C. All of the older copies have, of course, been worn out or lost ever since long before the birth of Christ, the oldest copies in manuscript form now in existence, so far as is known, dating from the year 500 A. Jewish Immunity From Disease.

Out of a total population in New York of 1,891,000, 70,46 ner cent, or 1,333,000, live in 39,138 tenement houses. Apartment houses of the better class are not included among tenement honses. It is a somewhat remarkable fact that the lowest death rate in the city is in one of the most thickly settled tenement house districts, occupied by some of the poorest people, in the wards where the Jewish population is the densest. The death rate among the crowded Jews was in 1891 only 18,73 to each 1,000, and in 1893 only 17.14. The comparatively cleanly habits of these Jews, their observance of the Mosaic law about food and their abstinence from alcohoiic liquors are given as explanations of their low death rate. In the Italian districts the death rate is double what it is among the Jows and the population not so dense, and even in the wards occupied by wealthy people the death rate is greater than among the Jews. The Fourth, Fourteenth and Eighth are the Italian wards, and the denth rate in 1893 was 33.78, 35.12 and 31.98 respectively. - Springfield Re-

The Kaiser's Uniforms.

Tho task of looking after the uniforms and other costumes of the Emperor William is by no means a sineenre. All these different and greatly varying articles of attire, as diversified as those at the disposal of a star actor, are carefully kept, systematically arranged and in large wardrobes, and at the head of the department is an official entitled tho obergarderobier, who has under his command two valets do chambro. The nautical uniforms are placed under the charge of an ex-suboflicer of the German navy. Before the emperor undertakes any one of his many expeditions the obergarderobier is provided with an exhanstive list of ail the dresses and other paraphernalia that will be required. - London Tit-Bits.

THE MODERN OYSTER STEW. The Middle Aged Man Contrasts It With the Stew of Before the War.

When I was a boy, before the war,' said a middle ageil man, "the price of an oyster stew in a good ordinary restaurant was 12;2 cents. The price inas gradually gone up until now, in a good restaurant, an ordinary stew costs 25 cents. In the old restaurant there was a cioth upon the tabio, but this cloth, unless you happened to find it when it had just been put on, was apt to be frescoed with coffee stains. There were catchup and vinegar and so on, some of them perhaps in bottles in a caster. Perhaps the waiter gave you a pickie or two. The light was not very bright. The waiter brought the stew in an oyster plate, and as the hot broth washed about a little in the plate as he carried it and set it down you were afraid it might burn his thumb. But the cysters were good. Let me pause to remark that the cyster is something to be grateful

"Today the table, without a cloth For a cloth them to Head's Fifth our County than by resten is chopped up celery and very good. You get two kinds of crackers, and plenty of them, and a generous portiou of French bread. The butter comes in a sightly little cone. The table furnituro is all good-dishes, glass, everything. The spread before you is agree-nble to the eye, and the whole scene is brilliantly lighted with the modern inenudescent lumps. The stew comes in an oval dish that rests npon a plate. I don't like to eat out of such a dish so well as I do out of a plate, but you know at least there is no danger burning the waiter's thumb. The oysters are good; the whole arrangement is away beyond the stow of before the war. It costs more, but are we not better able to pay for it? For general get up and get and dash mid style and comfort the old stew couldn't begin to compare with it. The modern oyster stew is one of many things that we do an overlasting sight better than we did."—New York Snn.

JUST BEFORE RETIRING.

How to Insure Peaceful and Hefroshing Slumber and a Sweet Mouth. A warm bath, a light lunch, and a elean month before retiring are good things to take. They promote sleep "'Why do you stand all this abuse and a "clean" tongue in the morulng. What this lunch should be the consumer must decide. The julce of a eouple of oranges, half a grape fruit, a cup of tea with dry toast, a sandwich and a ginss of ale, cup of looking sorry, ho shot his tormentor het bouillon, blscnit and a glass of sherry, erackers with milk and vichy, or a bowl of bread and milk are the choice of as many different people, all healthy and handsome.

The best thing in the morning after a cold plunge or sponge bath is a cup of hot tea or coffee with a little lemon julce. The earlier this draught is taken the better; It should precede the breakfast by at least half an hour. This is primo for the allmentary canal; it is a comfort to the stomach, and puts the digestive organs in order. A enp of het milk is also prescribed, and even hot water So Cheap as It Is Commonly the tirst thing in the morning is not bal.
